Foreword to the Third Edition

Since publishing the Model Rules of Parliamentary Procedure for South Carolina Counties, Second Edition in 2010, statutory changes have been enacted by the South Carolina General Assembly which directly impact local government parliamentary procedures. These changes and the resulting questions from member counties indicated some issues addressed in the Model Rules needed more in-depth explanation.

The additions in this third edition include: a new Rule 4.1 authorizing a member to attend a meeting by electronic means; a revised Rule 5 addressing statutory changes to the Freedom of Information Act requiring public bodies to provide an agenda for all public meetings, and restrictions on adding items to an agenda once its published; and a new Rule 18 has been added concerning council’s ability to discipline members, including their temporary removal from a meeting, for conduct that substantially impairs the ability to conduct a meeting.

Introduction

The great lesson for democracies to learn is for the majority to give the minority a full, free opportunity to present their side of the case, and then for the minority, having failed to win a majority to their views, gracefully submit to and recognize the action as that of the entire organization, and cheerfully to assist in carrying it out, until they can secure its repeal.1

The Home Rule Act,2 at § 4-9-110, empowers county councils to adopt their own rules of business. The majority of South Carolina counties have adopted Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised (RONR), currently in its 11th edition. RONR is primarily written for private societies and is not well suited for use by legislative bodies, particularly smaller bodies such as county councils. RONR generally does not take into account the type of statutory procedural mandates required of local governments. Neither chamber of the South Carolina Legislature uses RONR. The House of Representatives has adopted its own rules, based on Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedure; and the Senate’s rules are based on Jefferson’s Manual of Parliamentary Practice.

Some of the differences between legislative bodies and non-legislative societies, which “must be taken into account in the formulation of any system of rules,”\(^3\) include:

- Sessions of legislative bodies are made up of a number of meetings, often regularly scheduled, with the session lasting up to a year;\(^4\) whereas, sessions of a non-legislative society are usually limited to a single meeting rarely lasting longer than two to three hours;

- The number of members in a non-legislative society can be quite large and members are not paid, nor can they be compelled to attend meetings; for this reason, quorum

\(^3\) RONR (11th ed.).

\(^4\) The South Carolina General Assembly has two-year sessions. At the close of a session, no pending matters carry over to the next session. County councils, because they have staggered terms, are considered continuing bodies. For this reason, there are no terms of county council and ordinances given one or more readings can be given additional readings, even though new members of council have been elected in the interim. See S.C.A.G. 1994 WL 50707. However, one county council cannot bind a subsequent council in contract, particularly when the contract implicates a governmental function and, for the purposes of contract, a subsequent council is formed every time a new member is elected to council. Michael Cunningham v. Anderson County, 414 S.C. 298, 778 S.E.2d 884 (2015).
requirements must be less stringent in order for a non-legislative society to function;

- The business of legislative bodies is much greater in volume and more complex; consequently, much more of the business of a legislative body must be done by standing committees.

Because RONR is set up to handle large, single meeting sessions of non-legislative societies, they are quite formal and quite involved. RONR is a large, complex set of rules with over 700 pages, not including 48 pages of charts, tables, and lists. RONR recognizes that the formality of its rules could hinder the flow of business of a smaller body, particularly where fewer than a dozen members are present; it also recognizes that relaxation of some rules is in order for smaller boards and committees.\(^5\)

The purpose of the Model Rules of Parliamentary Procedure for South Carolina Counties (Model Rules) is to provide a simplified and much shorter set of rules, based in part on RONR, which can be adopted by county governing bodies, preferably by ordinance. The Model Rules were drafted with county council meetings in mind, but individual counties may want to require other county boards to use the Model Rules, as well.

\(^5\) RONR (11th ed.), § 49.
The number of authorized parliamentary motions is limited to 20, but the chair should be liberal in interpreting a motion that may not be correctly phrased. Those motions that do not meet the requirements of an approved parliamentary motion may be taken up as a main motion. Several parliamentary motions have alternative titles, any one of which would be a proper statement of the motion; the alternative names of the motions are set off in brackets ([ ]). See e.g. Model Rule 15, ¶ 1, Motion to Lay on the Table [Motion to Table]. Some procedural motions combine two similar motions, as described in RONR. In such cases, the similar motions are separated by a forward slash (/). See e.g., Model Rule 17, ¶ 2, Motion to Recall from the Table/Motion to Recall from Committee, which are actually two separate motions, but are dealt with by the Model Rules as if they were a single motion.

When situations arise that are not covered in the Model Rules, counties should refer first to the Comments section of the Model Rules and then to RONR for guidance, so long as these sources are consistent with state and federal law and with the Model Rules, as adopted by the county. Also, when state law affects county parliamentary rules, the Model Rules reflect the requirement when the law is not likely to change,\textsuperscript{6} or references the appropriate code section when future changes in the law are likely.\textsuperscript{7} Citations to the South Carolina Freedom of Information Act, S.C. Code Ann. § 30-4-10 et seq., are referred to in these Model Rules and in the Comments sections as “FOIA.”

In some cases, individual counties may choose not to enact one or more of the specific Model Rules. When a county elects not to adopt a specific Model Rule, it is recommended that the Model Rules numbering system remain intact, and that the omitted rule be labeled “reserved for later use.” If a county does not follow the Model Rules’ numbering system, recommendations for proposed changes may lead to confusion.

The SCAC staff will continue to monitor changes in state law, etc., and will modify the Model Rules, as necessary, to keep abreast of changes.

\textsuperscript{6} \textit{E.g.}, S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-130, which sets out requirements for public hearings, was passed as a part of the original Home Rule Act in 1975 and has been amended only once, in 1982.

\textsuperscript{7} \textit{E.g.}, S.C. Code Ann. § 30-4-40 of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) deals with matters exempt from disclosure. Passed as a part of the original FOIA in 1978, this section alone has been amended more than ten times.

Model Rule 1. Short Title.

This Ordinance may be cited as the __________ County Rules of Parliamentary Procedure.

Comment: These Model Rules were drafted with the anticipation that they would be adopted by ordinance by county governing bodies. For this reason, a Short Title section was included for ease of reference.

Model Rule 2. Applicability; Deviation from Rules.

These Rules shall apply to all meetings of county council, including committee meetings, and to all boards and commissions for which the county council appoints a majority of the members. As used in these Rules, the term “Meeting” means the convening of a quorum of the membership of county council, or such other board or commission, to discuss or act upon a matter over which county council or such other board or commission has supervision, control, jurisdiction, or advisory power; the term “Quorum” means a simple majority of the membership of the county council, or committee of county council, or such other board or commission.
Where applicable, the term “county council” means not only the county council, but also any other board or commission in the county governed by these Rules.

These Rules were adopted as guidelines to assist county council, and county boards and commissions in conducting orderly and productive meetings. Any deviation from or waiver of these Rules shall not affect or void any action taken by county council, or a county board or commission. Furthermore, such deviation or waiver does not convey any right or cause of action to third parties not otherwise imposed by law.

Comment: Model Rule 2 states that the Rules are to be followed in all meetings of county council and of county boards and commissions. The definitions for “Meeting” and “Quorum,” which have remained unchanged since 1985, are taken, essentially verbatim, from the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) at § 30-4-20. Omitted from the definition of “Meeting,” as defined in FOIA, is the provision for electronic meetings, as it is doubtful that such meetings would be a legal forum for a body that can spend government funds, impose fees and taxes, and create new laws that would impose criminal penalties. Since the Rules apply to all meetings, they should be followed regardless of whether the council or committee of council is acting in a legislative, administrative, or quasi-judicial capacity.

These Model Rules were formulated as a tool to be used by county council and other boards and commissions, and not as a weapon to be used against them in the courts. The Rules will be used to conduct meetings and hearings often regarding emotionally-charged subjects. Council chairs will be required to make quick decisions and may reach conclusions in which reasonable minds may differ. The second paragraph makes clear that the Rules were adopted as guidelines to assist council and should not be interpreted by the courts as a basis for striking down actions taken by county council or for conveying rights to third parties.

The basic Model Rule 2 contemplates that the Rules will apply not only in county council meetings but also in meetings of various boards and commissions to which county council appoints a majority of the board members; two alternatives to Model Rule 2 are set out below. The First Alternative Rule would have the Model Rules apply only to meetings of county council and its committees; the Second Alternative Rule allows county council to specify which county boards or commissions must follow the Model Rules.

Model Rule 2(a) Alternate Language.

First Alternative, Model Rule 2 (Rules to Apply to County Council only).

These Rules shall apply to all meetings of county council, including committee meetings. As used in these Rules, the term “Meeting” means the convening of a quorum of the membership of county council to discuss or act upon a matter over which county council has supervision, control, jurisdiction or advisory power; the term “Quorum” means a simple majority of the membership of county council, or committee of county council.

These Rules were adopted as guidelines to assist county council, in conducting orderly and productive meetings. Any deviation from or waiver of these Rules shall not affect or void any action taken by county council. Furthermore, such deviation or waiver does not convey any right or cause of action to third parties not otherwise imposed by law.
Second Alternative, Model Rule 2 (Rules to Apply to County Council and Specifically Named Boards and Commissions).

These Rules shall apply to all meetings of county council, including committee meetings, and to the following boards and commissions of the county:____________. As used in these Rules, the term “Meeting” means the convening of a quorum of the membership of county council, or such other board or commission, to discuss or act upon a matter over which county council or such other board or commission has supervision, control, jurisdiction, or advisory power; the term “Quorum” means a simple majority of the membership of the county council, or committee of county council; the term “county council” includes all boards and commissions in the county governed by these Model Rules.

These Rules were adopted as guidelines to assist county council (and county boards and commissions) in conducting orderly and productive meetings. Any deviation from or waiver of these Rules shall not affect or void any action taken by the county council, board, or commission. Furthermore, such deviation or waiver does not convey any right or cause of action to third parties, not otherwise imposed by law.

County council will refer to the Model Rules, and the Comment sections contained therein, as the primary resource in determining the intent and meaning of these Rules. In all cases not covered by these Rules, county council shall be governed by such rules as are set out in the most recent edition of Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised. Provided, however, that state and federal law shall take precedence over these Rules in all cases. Whenever possible, these Rules should be interpreted to conform to state and federal law; if an irreconcilable difference occurs, only the portion of the Rule or Rules directly in conflict with state or federal law is to be overruled, the remaining portions surviving.

Comment: When compiling these Model Rules, it was contemplated that counties would adopt the Rules by ordinance but would not adopt or codify the Comment sections. RONR differs significantly from the Model Rules in some instances and the former should be consulted as an ultimate authority only after first consulting the Comment section of the Model Rules to determine if the Model Rule intends to differ from RONR and, if so, in what manner.

Model Rule 3.1. Role of the Individual Council Member.

County council is a policy-making, legislative body. It provides a vision for the county and provides guidelines to county administration regarding how the county is to be run. County council members have authority only when acting together, speaking with one voice, and have no individual authority over county operations.

Comment: The Supreme Court, in Wilson v. Preston, 378 S.C. 348, 662 S.E.2d 580 (2008), held that the majority of county council could restrict the access to certain information that a single council member was attempting to obtain and that the county administrator could not be compelled to provide it. The single member of council brought a declaratory judgment action against the county administrator to obtain certain detailed information regarding the county’s legal bills. The council member was convinced that the bills would reveal waste and improper practices and intended to release the information to the public. The remainder of council was concerned that the disclosure would breach county council’s attorney-client privilege and directed the administrator to limit the access of the single council member. The court held that the administrator could not be compelled to disclose the information. There were a number of issues at work in Wilson, not the least of which was the council member’s disclosure that she intended to reveal information believed to be covered by the attorney-client privilege. The importance of Wilson is that it confirms that county council can only act as a body, not as individuals.

Model Rule 4. Meetings, Notice.

County council shall meet at least once monthly, but may meet more frequently provided that public notice, as described herein, is provided. Written public notice shall be given for all regularly scheduled meetings at the beginning of each calendar year. Notice shall include the dates, times, and places of the meetings.

Notice for all meetings of public bodies must be posted on a bulletin board at the meeting place for county council, or other suitable place, as early as practicable, but not less than twenty-four hours prior to each meeting. In addition, notice shall be posted on the county’s regularly-maintained and publically-accessible website. The notice must include an agenda and the date, time, and place of the meeting. The 24-hour requirement for posting notice does not apply to emergency meetings.

All persons, organizations, and news media requesting notification of county council meetings shall be notified of the times and places, and given copies of the agenda for all meetings, whether scheduled, rescheduled, or called. Efforts made to comply with this notice requirement shall be noted in the minutes.

Special meetings may be called by the chair or by the majority of county council, provided that the notice requirements are met. Meetings, whether scheduled, rescheduled, or called, may be canceled or rescheduled by the chair or by a majority of county council, provided that the requirement for at least one meeting per month is met. Meeting notice requirements apply to committee meetings as well as meetings of the full council.

Model Rule 4.1. Alternative Attendance by a Member.

A member of the body may attend any meeting by electronic means subject to the following requirements:
1. A quorum of the body is physically present at the meeting location; and
2. The electronic means used allows both the member to hear all proceedings, and those in attendance at the physical location to hear the member.

Comment: All but the last paragraph were taken either from S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-100 or § 4-9-110, or from FOIA, § 30-4-80. The General Assembly, by Act 70 of 2015, amended FOIA to require agendas for all meeting, to include the regular monthly meetings of county councils. The Act also placed restrictions on the ability of council to amend an agenda. See Model Rule 5. The fourth paragraph was inserted to clarify the issue of who has the authority to cancel or reschedule meetings, as neither the S.C. Code nor RONR specifies. Rule 4.1 was included to provide a specific rule to authorize a member to attend the meeting electronically, subject to a quorum being physically present and both those in attendance and the member can hear all proceedings. See S.C.A.G opinion 2005 WL 2250207.
Model Rule 5. Agenda.

Every public meeting shall have an agenda. The agenda will be compiled at the direction of the council chair by the clerk to council or such other person as may be designated. The agenda shall be posted, pursuant to Rule 4 and as required by FOIA, at least 24 hours prior to meetings. A copy of the agenda shall be provided as part of the notice given to any person, organization, or news media requesting notification of county council meetings. The agenda will designate the time and location of the meeting and the type of meeting to be held: council session, committee meeting, public hearing, public comment, workshop, or emergency session.

Comment: The following items are recommended, in no specific order, for inclusion in an agenda and are substantially the same as has been taught for many years by the Institute of Government for County Officials, sponsored by the South Carolina Association of Counties.

1. Call to Order 6. 1st Reading Ordinances
2. Approval of Minutes 7. Committee Reports
3. Consent Agenda 8. Resolutions
4. 3rd Reading Ordinances 9. Appointments
5. 2nd Reading Ordinances 10. Action after Executive Session
Consent Agendas:

Consent agendas (called a consent calendar in RONR) are used to more quickly dispose of routine business by allowing the council to approve more than one item at the same time, and without debate, amendment, or individual motions. The council chair may present a consent agenda at the beginning of council meetings. Only routine or noncontroversial items are listed under a consent agenda. If a council member requests discussion about a particular item, that item must be removed from the consent agenda and placed on the regular agenda to be discussed later in the meeting.

A council member who has a question about a consent agenda item should request the information before the meeting. An item should not be removed from the consent agenda just to answer a question. Clarification should be sent to all council members to ensure each one has the same information before the meeting.
Amending an Agenda:

Act No. 70 of 2015 restricts the ability of members of county council to amend an agenda once notice and the agenda have been provided to the public. Prior to the noticed meeting, an item may be added to the agenda, as long as an additional public notice period is provided. The additional notice must be given in the same manner as the original notice.

After the meeting has begun an additional item, upon which action can be taken, may be added to the agenda by a two-thirds (super-majority) vote. If the new item to be added is one upon which final action can be taken at the meeting, and there will not be an opportunity for public comment, it can only be added to the agenda by a two-thirds (super-majority) vote, and a finding that an emergency or an exigent circumstance exists if the item is not added to the agenda. See Model Rule 16.3: Motion to Suspend the Rules.

Model Rule 6. Hearings.

A. Public Hearings

Public hearings are the method required by the Home Rule Act for county council to gain input from the public at large. Members of council should refrain from making comments during the public hearing and should neither enter into debate with the public nor with other council members during the public hearing. Public hearings are required before final action is taken to:

1. Adopt annual operational and capital budgets;
2. Make appropriations, including supplemental appropriations;
3. Adopt building, housing, electrical, plumbing, gas, and all other regulatory codes;
4. Adopt zoning and subdivision regulations;
5. Levy taxes;
6. Sell, lease, or contract to sell or lease real property owned by the county;
7. Impose ad valorem property taxes upon a fire service area; or
8. Provide for the distribution of assets following the abolishment of a special purpose district.

Final action for any of the first six matters must be in the form of an ordinance. A minimum of 15-days’ notice of the time and place of the hearing must be published in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the county prior to conducting a public hearing for any of the previously discussed categories of ordinances.
Items 7 and 8 are addressed by S.C. Code §§ 4-19-20 and 4-9-85. Notice for item 7 must be provided once a week for three successive weeks in a paper of general circulation in the county, and the hearing must not occur fewer than 16 days following the first notice. Item 8 requires at least two public hearings with 10 days prior notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation prior to each meeting. Following the abolishment of a special purpose district located within the county, two public hearings are required prior to distributing assets and/or refunding taxes.

Comment: The Home Rule Act is codified at S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-10, et seq. S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-130 sets out the hearing requirements for the first six enumerated categories of ordinances. As a general rule, public hearings are not part of the council meeting, but they can be, if council chooses to do so. The better practice is to hold the public hearing immediately prior to or after the council meeting. Council may wish to impose time limits on individual speakers during the public hearing and, in the case of a large group, may require that a spokesman be chosen for any group of people with a common interest.
Ordinances not dealing with one of the eight enumerated subjects do not require a public hearing. For example, an ordinance to adopt these Rules would require neither public hearing nor the notice requirements of S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-130.

B. Quasi-Judicial Hearings.

When conducting a quasi-judicial hearing, county council takes on the role of an impartial trier of fact in a dispute involving the legal rights of one or more parties. In a quasi-judicial hearing, council members must be careful to provide basic rights due under state and federal constitutions and statutes. Among these basic rights, which council must protect, are the right to an attorney, the right to cross examine witnesses, and the right to due process. Further, council members must base their decisions on the evidence presented at the hearing and must not discuss the case beforehand or be influenced by the opinions of others who are not a part of the proceedings.

Quasi-judicial hearings are important because fundamental constitutional rights are involved. The 5th and 14th amendments of the U.S. Constitution prohibit the taking of property without the due process of law. Due process has been described by the courts as notice and an opportunity to be heard. Other rights at play include the right to be represented by counsel (at the petitioner’s expense), and the right to cross examine witnesses. Because federal rights are involved, failure by county council to afford these rights can lead to individual liability for anyone violating these rights.

Quasi-judicial hearings may also pose problems for the county attorney if the county has an interest adverse to the petitioner. It would be a conflict for the attorney to attempt to both advise the council as the “court” and to represent the county as its advocate.

Quasi-judicial hearings are not considered part of the unified court system and strict rules, including the Rules of Evidence and the Administrative Procedures Act, need not be followed. Hearsay evidence can be admitted and considered, if corroborated (Hamilton v. Bob Bennett Ford, 339 S.C. 68, 70, 528 S.E.2d. 667, 668 (2000)), but a decision based solely on hearsay cannot stand (Richards v. City of Columbia, 227 S.C. 538, 88 S.E.2d 683 (1955)).

Comment: The Latin word root “quasi” means, “as if.” From time to time, county council may be called on to conduct hearings that will determine the legal rights of the persons appearing before it; these hearings should be treated “as if” they are judicial hearings. Occasions that may give rise to a quasi-judicial hearing include grievance hearings under § 4-9-30(7), as well as appeals from zoning boards or boards of architectural review. See 1997 Op. S.C. Atty. Gen., 1997 WL 568829.

Model Rule 7. Minutes; Ordinances to Be Codified.

All proceedings of county council shall be recorded and all ordinances shall be indexed, codified, and published by title. The clerk to council shall make a permanent record of all ordinances adopted, shall make them available to the public, and shall furnish a copy of the record to the clerk of court for filing at that office.

Written minutes shall be kept of all meetings. Copies of the minutes shall be kept in perpetuity. Copies of any audio or video tapes may be destroyed by the clerk to council 24 calendar months after final approval of the written minutes. Minutes shall include, as a minimum:

1. Date, time, and place of the meeting;
2. Members of county council recorded as either present or absent;
3. Substance of all matters proposed, discussed, or decided and, if requested by a member, a record by member of any votes taken;

4. If any member of council has a conflict of interest on a matter before council, that member shall recuse himself or herself and provide a written statement describing the matter and the potential conflict as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 8-13-700 and by Model Rule 11.

5. Any other information that a member of council requests to be included or reflected in the minutes.

Minutes are public records and shall be made available within a reasonable time after the meeting, except any information not subject to disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. Minutes are not subject to disclosure until approved as written by the county council.

Comment: This Model Rule combines the requirements set out in S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-120, in § 8-13-700, and in FOIA at § 30-4-90. The latter section was amended in 2001 to provide that any person in attendance is allowed to record any portion of a meeting of a public body not closed to the public using voice or video recording means, so long as it does not interfere with the conduct of the meeting. Public bodies are not required to furnish recording facilities or equipment.

Requirements for retention of county records are set out in the State Department of Archives and History’s General Records Retention Schedules for County Records (1999), p. 12, which can be found at the Department’s website at www.scdah.sc.gov. The requirement for retaining minutes and tapes can be found in the Retention Schedules, in §§ 12-503.2 and 12-503.1, respectively.

Courts may not inquire into the motive of county council in passing legislation. Testimony from legislators cannot later be used as evidence of the intent of the legislative body at the time the law was passed. SC Education Assn. v. Campbell, 883 F.2d 1251, 1260 (1989).

The preferred method of voting by county council is by voice vote, although the chair may call for a show of hands or a roll call vote at any time. Any council member may demand a show of hands or a roll call vote. The demand is in order before or immediately after the voice vote has been taken, even though the chair may have announced the results of the voice vote. A council member may not explain his or her vote while voting but may change his or her vote at any time prior to the chair’s announcing the result.

Comment: RONR § 29 (Division of the Assembly) refers to the procedure for demanding a division vote (show of hands) or roll call vote. The rule against explaining one’s vote and the rule allowing change of vote can be found in RONR § 45. Any member may require that the vote of each member (if taken by show of hands or by roll call), be recorded in the minutes. See, Model Rule 7 (¶ 5), and S.C. Code Ann. § 30-4-90.

A. Number of Votes Required for Passage.

RONR, and/or state law may require differing number of members to vote in support of an action. The term “majority” or “simple majority” means more than half of those members present and voting. When a two-thirds majority is required, the term “two-thirds majority” or “super-majority” means at least two-thirds of those present and voting. The term “positive majority” means a majority of the members of council must vote in support of the action, regardless of the number of members present or not.

Comment: The term “majority vote” is defined in RONR § 45. See also, 1990 Op. S.C. Atty. Gen., 1990 WL 599263. (Examples: 5, not 4, is a majority of 8; 6 is a two-thirds majority of 9.) The term “positive majority” is defined in S.C. Code Ann. §§ 6-1-300, 6-1-510 and 6-1-710.

Any ordinance, resolution, or motion, unless otherwise required by these Rules, or by state or federal statute, passes if it receives a simple-majority of the votes cast. State and federal statutes and, in some cases, these Rules may require passage by more than a simple-majority. The following actions are included in those requiring a super-majority:

Two-thirds Majority [Super-majority]:
1. Adoption of an emergency ordinance (§ 4-9-130);
2. Removal of an employee appointed by a county supervisor (§ 4-9-430);
3. Sale or transfer of the county library assets for a non-library purpose (§ 4-9-39);
4. Defeat of a Motion to Follow the Agenda (Rule 14, ¶ 5);
5. Passage of Motion to Suspend the Rules (Rule 16, ¶ 3); and
6. Passage of a Motion to Call for the Question [Vote Immediately] (Rule 15, ¶ 2).

Note: Due to changing requirements in the law, the lists provided may not be complete.

Comment: S.C. Code § 4-9-420 provides that, for those counties that have adopted the Council-Supervisor form of government, the county supervisor serves as the presiding officer of county council and votes only in the case of council ties. For those counties that have adopted the Council-Administrator or Council-Manager form of government, the chair can vote on any issue. A council chair can vote to break or to cause a tie.

B. Voting on Motions.

In the case of debatable motions, the vote can be proposed in one of two ways:

(1) If debate has been completed and no other council member wishes to speak, the chair can call for the vote. If there are no objections, the chair can proceed with the vote;

(2) If the chair calls for the vote and there is an objection, a council member may make a Motion to Call for the Question [Vote Immediately]. If this motion is approved by a two-thirds vote, debate will stop. The chair will then read the proposed motion to county council and ask for the votes of the council members.

In the case of non-debatable motions, the vote shall occur immediately after the motion is recognized by the chair. The chair shall read the proposed motion to county council and then call for the vote.

Comment: See Model Rule 15, ¶ 2, for Motion to Call for the Question [Vote Immediately].

C. Voting to Elect Boards, Committees, and Commissions.

When council is voting to elect one or more persons to open positions on a board, committee, or commission, ballot elections should be used if the number of candidates exceeds the number of positions available. As an alternative to the ballot method, a majority of council may decide to vote on each nominee individually, taking them up in the order nominated. If the number of vacant positions equals or exceeds the number of candidates available, the council may dispense with the process under this Rule and appoint by acclamation or similar method.

Once the election process begins, motions are limited to Rule 14 Privileged Motions (Adjourn, Recede, Raise a Question of Privilege, Convene an Executive Session, or Follow the Agenda); to the following Rule 15 Subsidiary Motions: Motion to Postpone and Motion to Commit; and to the Rule 16 Incidental Motion of the Point of Order. All other motions are out of order until the election process is completed.

With a ballot election, each council member shall vote—on one ballot—for up to as many positions as are open. Each member shall sign or otherwise mark his or her ballot and the minutes will reflect each member’s vote. Members may vote by ballot for someone who was not nominated.

Each ballot is considered one vote cast, and a candidate must receive a majority of votes to be elected. If no candidate receives a majority vote, balloting continues as needed until all positions are filled. If fewer than the proper number of candidates receive a majority vote, those candidates receiving a majority are elected, and balloting continues with all other candidates remaining on the ballot. If more candidates receive a majority vote than there are positions open, those receiving the largest number of votes will be elected and those receiving a majority, but tied for last of those receiving a majority, will remain on the ballot for repeat balloting, as needed. If all positions are not filled after the first vote, no candidates shall be involuntarily eliminated.

Comment: S.C. Code Ann. §4-9-170 requires county councils to provide by ordinance for the appointment of members to boards, committees, and commissions. Model Rule 8C was added in the second edition of the Rules to meet this requirement.

As a general rule, an election is a two-phase process. In the first, or nominating phase, the universe of potential candidates is reduced to a short list. In the second, or election phase, the successful candidate(s) is/are selected from the short list. RONR § 46 discusses the nominating and election processes, including potential problems that should be avoided. Nominations from the floor (by council members, including the chair), or by a nominating committee with additional nominations from the floor, seem to be the preferred methods. Generally, the nominating process should be inclusive, as opposed to restrictive, to encourage more interest and participation by the public. Nominations should not be closed if council members still have additional nominations they wish to make.

For a discussion of election procedures for unopposed appointments see RONR § 46.

If the number of candidates exceeds the number of available positions, the choice of election methods boils down to dealing with the nominees one by one or all at one time. Dealing with the candidates one by one may be done by voice vote, show of hands, or similar method. As each nominee is taken up in the order nominated, this method presents fairness problems to those who were not nominated first.

It will be seen that, under the procedure just described, it is necessary for members wishing to vote for a later nominee to vote against an earlier one. This fact gives an undue advantage to earlier nominees and, accordingly, a voice vote is not a generally suitable method for electing the officers of organized societies.

RONR § 46: For the reasons previously discussed, the ballot election method is preferred when there are more candidates than positions available. The ballot election method is set out in Model Rule 8C, above, and is discussed in RONR § 46.

Although no candidates shall be involuntarily eliminated, candidates receiving fewer votes may choose to withdraw their candidacy. RONR discourages runoff elections, as runoffs usually occur between two competing factions. Repeated balloting allows a third or fourth candidate receiving fewer votes, initially, to emerge as a compromise candidate.

County council shall take action by passing ordinances and resolutions. An ordinance is local legislation passed by the governing body of the county, duly enacted pursuant to proper authority, describing general, uniform and permanent rules of conduct relating to the corporate affairs of the county. A resolution is an expression of opinion or policy concerning some particular item of business coming within the county council’s official cognizance and often deals with matters of special or temporary character.

Proposed ordinances and resolutions are introduced for discussion by any member of council offering the ordinance or resolution as a main motion. Resolutions are passed after a single period of debate (or reading) and vote; ordinances require a reading at three public meetings on separate days, with at least seven days between the second and third reading.

County council may introduce an ordinance and give first reading “by title only.” When giving first reading by title only, the minutes of the meeting should show that council believed there was a valid reason for expediting the ordinance and that there was a general understanding by the council of what the first draft of the ordinance would have said, had it been in writing.

Emergency ordinances - valid for only 60 days - may be passed after a single reading if a public emergency exists affecting the life, health, safety, or property of people. An emergency ordinance is effective immediately upon enactment, without regard to reading, public hearing, publication requirements, or public notice requirements. Every emergency ordinance shall be designated as such and shall contain a declaration of the emergency and describe it. Emergency ordinances require a two-thirds majority for passage.

Legislation affecting the following issues can only be enacted by ordinance and require a public hearing, as set out in Rule 6, prior to passage:
1. Adopting annual operational and capital budgets;
2. Making appropriations, including supplemental appropriations;
3. Adopting building, housing, electrical, plumbing, gas, and all other regulatory codes;
4. Adopting zoning and subdivision regulations;
5. Levying taxes;
6. Selling, leasing or contracting to sell or lease real property owned by the county.

Comment: See S.C. Code Ann. §§ 4-9-120 and 4-9-130. The terms “ordinance” and “resolution” are used extensively in, but are not defined by, the S.C. Code of Laws. The definitions used in this Model Rule are taken generally from 5 McQuillin Mun. Corp. §§ 15.1-15.2 (Rev. 3rd ed. 2009). The requirement that legislation affecting the six specified categories must be passed as ordinances is set out in § 4-9-130.

Model Rule 10. Debate.

Debate is the discussion on the merits of a pending question to determine if the issue should be adopted or not. Debate shall be managed by the chair in an impartial manner. Council members can participate in the debate only when they are recognized by the chair. Debate can be interrupted (i.e. a member may interrupt another member who has the floor), only to make a Motion to Adjourn, a Motion to Raise a Point of Privilege, a Motion to Raise a Point of Order, or a Motion to Convene an Executive Session. The council member making a motion is entitled to speak first; members who have not spoken on the issue shall be recognized ahead of those who have previously spoken.

Comment: RONR § 43 refers to the rules governing debate. The definition of the word “debate” is taken from RONR § 43. These Model Rules have not adopted several of the rules on debate set out in RONR. Specifically, the rule against mentioning other members by name, the rule against the chair’s participation in debate, and a general time limit on debate by members were not adopted.
Model Rule 11. Conflicts of Interest.

No member of county council, or of a county board or commission, may knowingly use his or her official office to obtain an economic interest for himself or herself, an immediate family member, or an individual or business with whom he or she is associated. Any member who, in order to discharge his or her official responsibilities, is required to take an action that affects the economic interest of any such person or business shall prepare a written statement describing the matter requiring action or decision and the nature of the potential conflict of interest. A copy of the statement shall be furnished to the chair of county council, or other board or commission, as appropriate. The chair shall cause the statement to be printed in the minutes and require that the member be excused from any votes, deliberations, and other actions on the matter in which the potential conflict of interest exists. The chair will ensure that the disqualification and the reasons for it are noted in the minutes.

It is the responsibility of the individual member to notify the chair of the potential conflict and, once notification is made, to refrain from participating in the discussion, deliberation, and voting on the issue. It is generally expected that the member with the conflict will leave the council chambers while the issue is being discussed, deliberated, or voted upon, but the member may remain in the chamber if a quorum would be lost in his or her absence. If the council member remains in the chamber, the minutes should reflect this fact and should indicate a reason.

Enforcement of this Rule is left to the individual member. The chair will not require the member to leave the chamber, nor will the chair prohibit the member from participating in the debate or in voting.

Comment: Conflicts of interest are not unusual, and for members of county council and other county boards and commissions who are in the business of providing the type of goods and services used by governmental entities, conflicts are almost unavoidable at some point in the member’s public career. It is important to recognize the conflict, and to take the appropriate action. It is not enough to refrain from participation when there is a conflict. Members of public bodies should also avoid the impression that they could personally benefit depending on the outcome.

The controlling statute is S.C. Code Ann. § 8-13-700; the requirement to file a conflict disclosure statement can be found in subsection (B)(4) of the above section. See also, S.C. Code Ann. § 4-9-180. Further, the South Carolina Ethics Commission has taken the position that the conflicted member should not only abstain from debating and voting on the matter, but also should not attend that portion of the meeting in which the conflict will arise. See Ethics Advisory Opinion 93-081.

The Ethics Commission has unofficially softened its position recently on situations where the absence of the member would destroy a quorum. The informal position of the Commission is that if the member remains in the hearing, he or she should remain completely silent and should avoid the appearance of non-verbal communications.

The burden of compliance is clearly on the shoulders of the member, not on the governmental body, nor the chair. Interpreting a prior code section with provisions similar to § 8-13-700, the Attorney General has opined that a mayor could not prohibit a member of a city council from voting, even in a conflict situation. See 1991 Op. S.C. Atty. Gen. No. 91-37, 1991 WL 474767. The Attorney General has also noted that violations of conflict of interest laws are a crime of moral turpitude (use of official position to obtain financial gain), and if convicted, a member must be

Model Rule 12. Main Motions.

In order for county council to take official action on any subject, a council member must first propose a main motion. A proposed main motion will not be recognized by the chair until another council member seconds the motion. A second does not require the council member seconding the motion to support the motion. A council member may withdraw a main motion that he or she has made at any time before the council has voted on that motion.

Comment: The term “Main Motion” is consistent with the term as used in RONR. The main motion is the vehicle used to present issues before county council for consideration. Under RONR, a motion does not require a second in a small body such as council; however, the committee that originally drafted these Model Rules decided that a second is appropriate.

During the course of debate, council members may introduce procedural motions, which are limited to those specific motions described in Rules 14 through 17. Procedural motions are used to facilitate the orderly discussion of business before county council. They limit, but allow for, interruptions and allow county council to focus on one issue at a time. Procedural motions are divided into privileged, subsidiary, incidental, and recall motions and are further described in Rules 14 through 17, respectively. Privileged motions and Points of Order do not require a second; all other incidental motions and all subsidiary and recall motions require a second.

Comment: This Model Rule provides that privileged motions, and a Point of Order (an incidental motion), do not require a second, a position consistent with RONR.

Privileged, subsidiary, and recall motions have a precedence or rank assigned. The incidental motions have no rank among themselves; except as described in Model Rule 16, they rank below the privileged motions and the Motion to Lay on the Table. A main motion has the lowest rank and does not take precedence over any other motion, nor can a new main motion be introduced when another main motion is pending.
Model Rules 14 through 17 describe the characteristics associated with each motion. As a general rule, privileged motions take precedence over subsidiary and recall motions; subsidiary motions take precedence over recall motions, with the Motion to Reconsider (a recall motion) being the single exception to the general rule. See Note 1, at the conclusion of this Comment section, regarding the special characteristics of the Motion to Reconsider. See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

The same information is available in the descriptive section of the appropriate motion. Reference can also be made to RONR if additional information is required. Keep in mind that these Model Rules do not always follow RONR.

As a matter of convenience, a list of privileged, subsidiary, and recall motions are set out below in order, according to rank or precedence. Incidental motions are listed as a single item as they have no precedence among themselves. As against other motions, incidental motions rank just below the Motion to Lay on the Table. A motion of higher precedence can interrupt a motion of lower precedence and an incidental motion can interrupt a motion of higher precedence if it pertains to the pending motion. The higher ranking motion must be dealt with procedurally before discussion can turn to a motion of lower rank. A motion in the following list takes precedence over all motions below it on the list:

1. Motion to Reconsider (See Note 1, below)
2. Motion to Adjourn
3. Motion to Recede [to Take a Recess]
4. Motion to Raise a Question of Privilege
5. Motion to Convene in Executive Session
6. Motion to Follow the Agenda
7. Motion to Lay on the Table
8. All incidental motions (See Note 2, below)
9. Motion to Call for the Question [Motion to Vote Immediately]
10. Motion to Limit/Extend Debate
11. Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain
12. Motion to Refer to Committee [Motion to Commit]
13. Motion to Amend
14. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely
15. Motion to Recall from the Table/Motion to Recall from Committee
Note 1. The Motion to Reconsider is a special case. It is only in order during the meeting the motion to be reconsidered was acted on or at the next meeting. See Model Rule 17, ¶ 2 for exceptions and special restrictions. If the time limit has not expired, the motion can be made at anytime and it takes precedence over all other motions, yielding to nothing. This precedence is necessary because of the time constraints. Once the motion is made, however, the discussion of the motion drops back to the same precedence as the motion it proposes to reconsider.

Note 2. The incidental motions have no rank among themselves; except as described in Model Rule 16, they rank below the privileged motions and the Motion to Lay on the Table. Once an incidental motion is made, it takes on the precedence of the motion to which it is incidental.

The five privileged motions are the highest ranking group of procedural motions, with the Motion to Adjourn having the highest precedence of the group. Only the Motion to Reconsider has higher precedence. Privileged motions can be made at anytime; the Motion to Adjourn, the Motion to Raise a Point of Privilege, and the Motion to Convene an Executive Session can interrupt another member who has the floor. When making one of these three motions, the council member should get the attention of the chair. The chair, interrupting anyone then speaking, recognizes the council member, who then states the motion.

Privileged motions require no second, cannot be reconsidered and, except for the Motion to Recede [Take a Recess], are not debatable. All privileged motions pass by simple majority. Specific characteristics of each privileged motion, listed in order of precedence, are set out below.

Comment: See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

1. Motion to Adjourn.

An unqualified Motion to Adjourn is the highest ranking privileged motion and requires, if approved by a majority vote, that the meeting end immediately and reconvene at the next regularly scheduled or called meeting. As the highest ranking privileged motion, the Motion to Adjourn can be raised at anytime, except when a vote is being taken or being counted. It can be interrupted only by the motion to reconsider; it can interrupt any person having the floor. The Motion to Adjourn cannot be amended, debated, or reconsidered; it requires a majority for passage. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: See RONR § 21. Any qualification of the Motion to Adjourn (e.g., “I move that we adjourn in 45 minutes” or “I move that we adjourn and meet again next Thursday”) changes the status of this motion from a privileged motion to a main motion.

2. Motion to Recede [Motion to Take a Recess].

A recess is a short intermission, taken immediately upon passage. Following the recess, the meeting takes up at the same point where it was interrupted. The motion cannot be debated or reconsidered, but can be amended as to the duration of the recess. It requires a majority for passage. Also, the Motion to Recede is out of order if anyone has the floor or a vote is being taken or counted. Like the Motion to Adjourn, the Motion to Recede is privileged only if the recess is to be taken immediately; a Motion to Recede at some point in the future is a main motion. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: See RONR § 20. The motion may properly be referred to as a “Motion to Recede” or a “Motion to Take a Recess.”

3. Motion to Raise a Question of Privilege.

A Motion to Raise a Question of Privilege is a device to allow county council to take up a matter for immediate consideration because of its urgency; it can interrupt any person having the floor. The motion cannot be amended, debated, or reconsidered, but it can be appealed. It is generally ruled on by the chair, but a vote may be taken if the decision of the chair is appealed. If approved, what follows will be a main motion taken out of order. Generally there are two types of questions of privilege: questions relating to the privilege of county council; and questions of personal privilege. If the two come up together, a question of council privilege should take precedence over a question of personal privilege. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: Questions of privilege of county council usually relate to the comfort of the members of council or the public (e.g., council chambers are too hot, too cold, or too noisy); to the conduct of council members or visitors or members of the public; or to the accuracy of published reports. Care should be taken not to confuse this motion with the group to which it belongs (i.e., privileged motions). Many questions of privilege can be resolved by the chair (e.g., by having someone adjust the thermostat or by demanding order in the chamber).

RONR § 19 provides guidance for this particular motion, with one exception. RONR would have the Motion to Convene an Executive Session (which follows immediately), first raised as a Motion to Raise a Question of Privilege. These Model Rules make the Motion to Convene an Executive Session a separate motion to simplify the procedure. Questions of personal privilege are extremely rare, as noted in RONR.

4. Motion to Convene an Executive Session.

Executive sessions must be convened and conducted in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act and may be convened only for one or more of the specific reasons enumerated in the Act. A properly stated motion provides an appropriate reason for convening the executive session. If a valid reason is not stated, the chair may inquire or, if the reason is obvious, provide the reason when restating the motion. The reason for convening the executive session must be recorded in the minutes, in accordance with Rule 7. The motion may be amended and debated with regard to stating the appropriate reason or reasons for convening the session; however, it cannot be reconsidered. A public vote is required on the motion prior to convening the executive session; a majority vote is required for passage. The Motion to Convene an Executive Session can interrupt any person having the floor. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: Unlike RONR, these Model Rules make the Motion to Convene an Executive Session a separate motion from the Motion to Raise a Question of Privilege. Additionally, unlike the latter motion, the Motion to Convene an Executive Session may be debated and amended with regard to the reasons for convening the session. FOIA, § 30-4-70(a), provides the only valid reasons for convening an executive session and should be consulted before putting the motion to a vote. The requirement for a public vote is also a statutory requirement; see § 30-4-70(b).
At the time of publication, FOIA provides five reasons for which counties may convene an executive session:

1. personnel matters;
2. legal matters and negotiations;
3. investigations regarding criminal misconduct;
4. matters involving security personnel or devices; and
5. economic development discussions.

5. Motion to Follow the Agenda.

This motion is used to get a meeting back on schedule and is appropriate when the meeting has been allowed to digress or when a specific time scheduled for an item of business has arrived and the chair has failed to take notice. Once the motion is made, the chair must conform with the agenda or put the motion to a vote. The motion cannot be amended, debated, or reconsidered; a two-thirds majority vote is required to overrule this motion. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: This motion is captioned the motion to “Call for the Orders of the Day,” in RONR § 18. A decision not to follow the agenda is, in essence, a decision to suspend the rules. See Model Rule 16, ¶ 3 for the motion to suspend the rules. Because the Motion to Suspend the Rules must be passed by a two-thirds majority, overruling this motion should be governed by the same requirement.

Model Rule 15. Subsidiary Motions.

The six subsidiary motions help deliberative bodies reach a decision on other pending motions, usually a main motion. Subsidiary motions are always applied to another pending motion. Three subsidiary motions – Motion to Amend, Motion to Limit/Extend Debate, and Motion to Call for the Question [Motion to Vote Immediately] – can be applied to other subsidiary motions and the Motion to Amend can be applied to the Motion to Recede [Take a Recess], a privileged motion. All subsidiary motions are out of order when another person has the floor.

All subsidiary motions share the following four characteristics:

1. They are always applied to a motion that is pending at the time and, when adopted, the subsidiary motion changes the motion it is applied to without adopting it;

2. They can be applied to any main motion (and some other motions, as well);

3. They are in order from the moment the motion they are to be applied to is stated by the chair until a vote has begun on that motion; and

4. They conform to the hierarchy as listed below (no motion in the hierarchy is in order if a motion listed above it in the order is pending).

See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

1. Motion to Lay on the Table [Motion to Table].

A Motion to Lay on the Table proposes that the consideration of a motion be postponed until a later time. It is an appropriate motion to take up a more pressing matter, out of order, and to return later to the tabled motion. The main motion can be brought back for consideration if a Motion to Recall is later passed by county council. A motion that has been laid on the table will die if it has not been taken from the table by the close of the meeting following the meeting in which the motion was tabled. Amendments and debate are not allowed on a Motion to Lay on the Table and it cannot be reconsidered; it requires a majority vote for passage. The Motion to Lay on the Table is out of order if another speaker has the floor.

Comment: See RONR § 17. The motion may properly be referred to as a “Motion to Lay on the Table,” or “Motion to Table.”

2. Motion to Call for the Question [Motion to Vote Immediately].

If passed, this motion cuts off debate and forces an immediate vote on the pending issue. The Motion to Call for the Question is neither debatable nor amendable, but it can be reconsidered up until a vote is taken on the called question. A two-thirds majority is required for passage. The Motion to Call for the Question can be applied to any motion requiring a vote.

Comment: RONR § 16 refers to this motion as a Previous Question motion. The motion may properly be referred to as a “Motion to Call for the Question” or a “Motion to Vote Immediately.” As a general rule, if a Motion to Call for the Question is made while a procedural motion is pending, the procedural motion is disregarded and the main motion is brought up for an immediate vote. If it is clear that the motion was made to call for the question on the procedural motion, an affirmative vote would result in a vote on the procedural motion and debate on the underlying motion would continue.

3. Motion to Limit/Extend Debate.

The Motion to Limit Debate and the Motion to Extend Debate change any time constraints placed on the length of debate. The details of such motions are to be provided by the council member making the motion. Either motion can be applied to any motion that is debatable (not just to main motions). Debate is not allowed on either motion, nor can either be reconsidered. A two-thirds vote is required for passage. The motions can be amended as to the length of the time limitation.

4. Motion to Postpone/Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain.

A Motion to Postpone and a Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain are appropriate when a council member believes that the pending main motion should not be considered until some point in the future. These motions are in order even though debate has already occurred on the main motion. The Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain sets a particular time for the main motion to be considered again, which may be later in the same meeting, at a future meeting or upon the occurrence of a specified event, or the issuance of a necessary report. The motion is debatable, amendable as to the duration of postponement, and can be reconsidered. If the motion sets the matter for a date and time certain, a two-thirds majority is required for passage; if the motion does not set a specific time for consideration, it is referred to as a Motion to Postpone and only a majority vote is required for passage. If the motion is set for a time certain, the chair will bring the motion back to county council for further consideration at the specified time.

Comment: See RONR § 14. This is actually two motions in one. The Motion to Postpone sets no specific time for debate, (e.g. a motion to postpone debate until the next meeting). Without a specified time set for debate, this motion requires only a simple majority for passage. The Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain would set not only the date, but also a specific time the debate would occur. When the appointed hour arose, debate on any other matter must stop and the matter set for a time certain must be taken up. The Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain requires a two-thirds majority for passage.

5. Motion to Commit [Motion to Refer to Committee].

The chair may refer any matter to a committee. If the chair does not refer a matter to a committee and a council member believes that further information or study is needed before the county council can act on a matter, he or she may propose that it be referred to a committee or to a particular office in county government for further study. If an appropriate committee does not already exist, a special committee can be formed as a part of the motion. A Motion to Commit may specify the date that the committee or department will report back to council. If a special committee is formed, the chair will appoint its members and its chair. This motion is debatable and can be amended as to where the motion is to be committed and the date and time that the committee will report back; it can be reconsidered. The motion requires a majority for passage.

Comment: See RONR § 13. The motion may properly be referred to as a “Motion to Commit” or a “Motion to Refer to Committee.”
6. Motion to Amend.

A Motion to Amend is used to make a change to a pending motion. Amendments must be closely related to the original motion and must not change the nature of the motion that they amend. A Motion to Amend can itself be amended, but the Motion to Amend an amendment cannot. These rules are to be enforced by the chair.

In addition to main motions, some subsidiary motions and the Motion to Recede [Take a Recess], can also be amended. Debate is allowed on a Motion to Amend only if the original motion is debatable, and is limited to the proposed amendment. The Motion to Amend can be reconsidered. A majority vote is required to adopt an amendment. If the amendment is adopted, county council will then consider the amended version of the motion.

Model Rule 16. Incidental Motions.

Six incidental motions allow council members to appeal rulings by the chair, raise points of order, question precedence of motions, and raise objections to consideration of matters that are incidental to the discussions at hand but do not directly relate to the main question under discussion. Incidental motions are in order only if they pertain to the motion then pending or to the business at hand. If the incidental motion is in order, it takes precedence over any other motions that are pending. Points of Order may interrupt another member who has the floor. Incidental motions have no rank among themselves; except as described below, they rank below the privileged motions and the Motion to Lay on the Table.

Comment: See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

1. Point of Order [Motion to Raise a Question of Order].

The Point of Order takes precedence over any question from which it arose. It yields to any privileged motion and a motion to lay the underlying question on the table. The Point of Order is not debatable (except that the chair may ask the member raising the point to explain it), is not amendable, and cannot be reconsidered. It does not require a second. The Point of Order is in order when another person has the floor and can interrupt a person speaking if the point genuinely requires attention at the time it is raised. Normally, the point is ruled on by the chair and no vote is taken, unless there is an appeal or the chair is in doubt.

Comment: See RONR § 23. The motion may properly be referred to as a “Point of Order” or a “Motion to Raise a Question of Order.”

2. Appeal.

The duties of the chair include making rulings on questions of parliamentary procedure. An Appeal is the vehicle available to members of council who believe that the chair’s ruling was erroneous. The Appeal is in order when another has the floor, but must be taken immediately after the ruling and is out of order if other business has intervened. It is debatable unless the underlying question is not debatable or if the Appeal relates to decorum or priority of business; it is not amendable.

The decision of the chair stands unless reversed by a majority of the members; the chair may vote to create a tie and thus sustain the ruling. An Appeal takes precedence over any pending question at the time the chair makes the ruling. It yields to all privileged motions, incidental motions arising from itself and, if debatable, to the following subsidiary motions: Motion to Limit/Extend Debate, Motion to Call for the Question [Vote Immediately], Motion to Commit, Motion to Postpone/Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain, and the Motion to Lay on the Table. If debatable, each member may speak only once. An Appeal can be reconsidered.

Comment: See RONR § 24. The Appeal only applies to rulings of the chair. If, for example, in response to a parliamentary inquiry, the chair gives an opinion a member disagrees with, an Appeal is not in order. Also, if a member disagrees with the ruling of the chair, he or she should not hesitate to appeal. Appealing a decision is no more delicate than disagreeing with another member in debate. In close questions of parliamentary procedure on an important issue, the chair may welcome an appeal. RONR § 24.

3. Motion to Suspend the Rules.

The Motion to Suspend the Rules allows county council to do something it could not ordinarily do without violating one or more of its regular rules. The motion cannot be used to suspend a rule in violation of state or federal law, nor can the suspension violate a fundamental rule of procedural law.

A Motion to Suspend the Rules can be made anytime there is no question pending. When a matter is pending, this motion takes precedence over any other motion if it applies to the pending matter of business. No subsidiary motion can be applied to this motion. It is out of order when another council member has the floor; it is not debatable, not amendable, and cannot be reconsidered. It requires a two-thirds majority vote for passage.

Comment: For examples of parliamentary rules too fundamental to suspend, see RONR § 25.

It is not necessary to state the rule to be suspended when making the motion, but the purpose for the suspension should be stated (e.g. “Mr. Chairman, I move to suspend the rules to take up, out of order, the matter of ...”).

The Motion to Suspend the Rules has such potential for abuse that the chair must be aware of and must be quick to preclude not only the abuse itself, but also the appearance of abuse. For example, the majority, by suspending the rules, “cannot deny any particular member the right to attend meetings, make motions, speak in debate, and vote.” RONR § 25.

4. Motion to Divide the Question.

The Motion to Divide the Question allows members of county council to require a question dealing with a single subject to be divided into parts and to have each part considered and voted on separately, but only if each part is capable of standing alone. This motion is not debatable, cannot be reconsidered, and requires a majority vote for passage. It is amendable only with regard to how the question should be divided.

This motion is out of order when another has the floor. It takes precedence over the main motion. If applied to an amendment, it takes precedence over the amendment, but it cannot be made to the underlying matter with an amendment pending. It yields to all privileged motions, to all applicable incidental motions and to all subsidiary motions with the following exceptions: Motion to Amend and Motion to Limit/Extend Debate.
5. Motion to Consider by Paragraph/Motion to Consider by Section.

Motions to Consider by Paragraph or by Section allow county council to break down complex proposals into their component parts and to consider, debate, and amend each paragraph or section separately. This procedure can be applied by the chair on his or her own initiative or by the county council following the adoption of a motion by any member.

These motions are not debatable, cannot be reconsidered, and require a majority vote for passage. They are amendable only with regard to how the question should be divided. These motions are out of order when another has the floor. They take precedence over the main motion. If applied to an amendment, they take precedence over the amendment, but cannot be made to the main motion with an amendment pending. They yield to all privileged motions, to all applicable incidental motions, and to all subsidiary motions with the following exceptions: Motion to Amend and Motion to Limit/Extend Debate.

6. Requests and Inquiries.

From time to time, council members may need additional background information or may wish to provide such information, so that the council can better understand the issue under discussion. Requests and inquiries provide the vehicle for exchanging this information. Parliamentary Inquiries and Points of Information may interrupt another who has the floor, but only if the matter requires immediate attention. Requests and inquiries are not amendable, debatable, or subject to reconsideration. No votes are taken on Parliamentary Inquiries or Points of Information; other requests/inquiries require a majority vote for passage, except that reading of papers requires unanimous consent. All share similar characteristics and procedural requirements and can be subdivided into the following categories:

A. Parliamentary Inquiry

Such inquiries are always directed to and answered by the chair and are used to clarify specific parliamentary or organization rules that have bearing on the issue at hand.

B. Point of Information

This inquiry is addressed to the chair or to another member through the chair, for information relevant to the business at hand, but not related to parliamentary procedure.
C. Reading of Papers

No member of council has the right to read or have another person read from any papers or books as part of that member’s debate on any matter without unanimous consent of the other members of council. Even so, it is customary to grant leave to members to read short, pertinent printed matter, so long as the privilege is not abused.

D. Any Other Privilege

Examples of other privileges include requesting to address the council on a personal or non-business matter or, if there is no motion pending, requesting to make a presentation.

Comment: RONR § 33 differs from this paragraph in that there is no requirement for leave to modify or withdraw a motion, as this prerogative is already granted by Model Rule 12.

Together, these requests and inquiries have the following characteristics which are universally shared unless otherwise indicated:
1. They all take precedence over any motion they are connected with and may be made at any time no other business is pending. They yield to all privileged motions and other incidental motions;

2. No subsidiary motion can be applied to them;

3. Unlike RONR, the Parliamentary Inquiry and Point of Information are the only requests or inquiries that can interrupt a member who has the floor;

4. None is debatable or amendable; and

5. No vote is taken on Parliamentary Inquiries or Points of Information; majority vote is required to pass the others, except that Reading of Papers requires unanimous consent.

Model Rule 17. Recall Motions.

Two recall motions allow issues that have been previously disposed of or assigned to a committee to be brought back to the county council as a body.

Comment: RONR refers to recall motions as “Motions That Bring a Question Again Before the Assembly,” and discusses them in detail in Chapter IX (§§ 34 through 37). Two of the motions discussed in RONR (Motion to Reconsider and Motion to Amend Something Previously Adopted) do not lend themselves to the type of deliberation done by legislative bodies and, of these two, only the Motion to Reconsider was adopted by the Model Rules. Two other motions (Motion to Take from the Table and Motion to Discharge a Committee), are combined in a single Motion to Recall from the Table/Motion to Recall from Committee. These motions are discussed in RONR §§ 34 and 36, respectively.

The problem with the Motion to Reconsider and the Motion to Amend Something Previously Adopted is that ordinances and resolutions passed by county council become effective without referral to another chamber or to an executive branch for signature. Neither of these motions can be used to reconsider or amend an ordinance or resolution that has become effective. If it is the will of county council to reconsider or amend an ordinance or resolution previously passed, the proper procedure is to pass another ordinance or resolution. The Motion to Reconsider was retained because it has a narrow window in which it can be raised. The Motion to Reconsider is discussed in RONR § 37; the Motion to Amend Something Previously Adopted is discussed in RONR § 35.

See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

1. Motion to Reconsider.

The Motion to Reconsider allows county council to debate whether or not to overturn a decision made at the meeting that is in progress or at the immediately preceding meeting; provided, however, that third reading to an ordinance may be reconsidered only at the same meeting in which the third reading was adopted. Furthermore, if the matter to be reconsidered was the adoption of a resolution that has already been published or acted upon, the motion is out of order. The Motion to Reconsider allows county council to consider new information that may affect the decision that has already been made. Any council member who voted on the prevailing side can make a Motion to Reconsider. The motion is debatable if the matter to be reconsidered is debatable, but it cannot be amended. A majority vote is required for the motion to pass. The Motion to Reconsider, itself, cannot be reconsidered. If the Motion to Reconsider is agreed to, the original decision will be voided and the county council will return to debate and vote again on the original motion.

Subject to the time restriction indicated above, the Motion to Reconsider can be made at any time, taking precedence over any other motion and yielding to nothing. The Motion to Reconsider is out of order when another person has the floor. Once the Motion to Reconsider is made, the consideration of the motion takes the priority of the motion to be reconsidered, but has precedence over any new motion of equal rank. A Motion to Reconsider temporarily suspends any action growing out of the motion to be reconsidered. If the Motion to Reconsider is made but not considered immediately, any member can call up the motion by bringing it to the attention of council at any time consideration of the motion would be in order.

Comment: The unusually high precedence of this motion grows out of the short window of opportunity to raise the issue. Once the motion is made, its consideration reverts to a much lower precedence, with the fate of the underlying issue being held in abeyance until the Motion to Reconsider can be decided.
2. Motion to Recall from the Table/Motion to Recall from Committee.

The Motions to Recall from the Table and to Recall from Committee allow the county council to consider a question that has been laid on the table or that has been assigned but not yet reported out of committee. These motions take precedence over nothing and must be made when no other business is pending. The motions are not debatable or amendable. A tabled motion that is not recalled by the close of the meeting following the meeting in which it was tabled is dead. A majority vote is required for passage of either motion.

Comment: This is actually two motions in one, taking the place of the following motions listed in RONR: Take from the Table (RONR § 34) and Discharge a Committee (RONR § 36). As discussed in Model Rule 15, The Motion to Lay on the Table provides a means of temporarily postponing consideration of a matter, so that something of greater urgency can be discussed. This motion allows county council to recall the matter previously tabled for further consideration. Similarly, the Motion to Recall from Committee can bring a matter previously assigned to a committee back to the full council for discussion or assignment to a different committee. This motion is referred to as a “Motion to Recall from the Table” or a “Motion to Recall from Committee,” depending on the circumstances.

Model Rule 18. Discipline of Individual Council Member [Motion to Discipline].

A member of the body may be disciplined by the body during an active meeting for conduct that substantially impairs the ability of the body to conduct the meeting. The member shall be given an initial warning by the chair that his or her conduct is in breach of the rules of the body. The member may only be removed from an active meeting by motion and a two-thirds vote of the body for continued conduct if the chair determines that such conduct has substantially impaired the body’s ability to conduct the meeting. The removal of the member shall continue for such time as determined by the body, not to exceed adjournment of the active meeting.

Comment: The South Carolina Attorney General has opined that discipline of council members is an inherent legislative function of county council. The courts however, have not considered the issue. Therefore, SCAC has developed a conservative Model Rule to address issues of member conduct. This Model Rule therefore requires a two-thirds vote to remove a member from a meeting. The chair should exert as much influence as needed to maintain order. If a member’s conduct substantially impairs the body’s ability to continue an active meeting the body should impose discipline upon that member to return the meeting to order. The chair should initially warn the member concerning the conduct. The removal of a member should be a final and last resort action.

Notes:

1. May only be amended as to the proposed length of the recess.

2. Ruled on by the chair; no vote unless appealed.

3. The motion can be amended and debated only for the purpose of identifying the appropriate reason or reasons for convening the executive session. A public vote is required by statute. A majority vote is required.

4. Requires \( \frac{2}{3} \) majority to overrule.

Notes:

1. Generally ruled on by the chair; no vote is taken unless the chair is in doubt or an appeal is taken;

2. Majority or tie vote sustains the chair; chair can vote to create a tie to defeat an appeal;

3. No vote is taken on a Parliamentary Inquiry or a Point of information; other requests require a majority vote, although they are often granted by unanimous consent; Reading of Papers requires unanimous consent.
Rule 17. Recall Motions.

Notes:

1. The motion is debatable if the matter to be reconsidered is debatable. If debatable, this motion opens debate on the merits of the matter to be reconsidered.

2. If the motion is to recall a motion or proposed ordinance/resolution from the table, it cannot be amended, debated or reconsidered. If the motion is to recall a motion or proposed ordinance/resolution from a committee, it can be amended or debated, but only a negative vote can be reconsidered.
