PRESIDENT'S REPORT

SOUTH CAROLINA
ASSOCIATION OF COUNTIES

ALLENDALE COUNTY IN FOCUS

The Allendale County Courthouse was originally built in 1922, just after the founding of the county (1919). After a fire in 1998, the courthouse was restored with an addition in 2005.

The Burton's Ferry Turnstile Bridge was built in 1938 as a rotating bridge that provided access across the Savannah River to Georgia while also allowing barge and ship traffic to pass on the river. In 1965 a new bridge was built and the old bridge left in the open position. It is now part of a greenway trail for walking/running ending in great views of the Savannah River.

The Carolina Theater was a popular cinema in downtown Allendale from the 1920s to the 1960s. In 1983, the University of South Carolina–Salkehatchie acquired the theater building. With money from grants and support from local businesses, the school officially reopened the theater in 2013. It is used by the community as well as the school for arts and cultural events.

The "All for Allendale County" mural, painted in 2021 on the Fleetwood Building on US Highway 301, features Swallowtail Kite birds, which converge on the area during hot summer months to feed after nesting nearby. The All for Allendale County campaign is a community effort bringing together residents, leaders and businesses to attract economic development.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear County Officials,

This year represents an important milestone for county government in South Carolina. Did you know this summer marks 50 years of the Home Rule Act?

Signed by Gov. James Edwards on June 25, 1975, the Home Rule Act signals the beginning of modern county government as we know it today. Our Association was founded to advocate for Home Rule, and half a century later our collective voices continue making a difference at the state level and in our 46 counties.

It is therefore fitting that this landmark year has been another successful one at SCAC. It is my honor to share the 2025 President's Report showcasing accomplishments under our three main pillars of advocacy, education and collaboration.

Advocate

The SCAC team, along with county officials, continued to advocate on behalf of county government at the General Assembly and shape statewide legislation to benefit all South Carolina counties.

Thank you for working with your local delegation members and voicing your support of SCAC policy positions. Your calls, messages and visits to testify at hearings in Columbia are greatly appreciated and truly make a difference.

A highlight of the 2025 legislative session includes full funding to the Local Government Fund, which will increase by more than $14.5 million in FY 2025-26.

Another key policy position enacted in May was legislation that addresses the financial challenges counties face regarding waste tire management and processing. The new law includes an increase to $400 from the $150-per-ton cap on tipping fees a county may charge for recycling and disposal of undocumented waste tires. The successful adoption of the bill represents collaborative efforts from SCAC, the South Carolina Manufacturers Alliance and several other entities over the past several years.

Thank you to the more than 160 county officials who attended our Counties Connect: A Legislative Action Day in February at the State House. In addition, numerous county officials testified at subcommittee hearings throughout the session explaining the impact of legislation on our counties.

Educate

In addition, county officials took part in our Institute of Government sessions, orientation courses for newly elected officials and workshops in the summer, fall and winter. These events offered a chance to learn about the latest trends affecting local government and provided an opportunity to connect with colleagues across the state.

Collaborate

In this report, you will read more about the SC Counties Insurance Trusts including proactive risk management and safety training and support for counties.

This year we expanded our Board of Directors Scholarship Program. Over the course of four years, on a rotating basis, the program will award a $5,000 scholarship to one graduating senior from each of our 46 counties.

We celebrated innovative solutions to common county government challenges during our inaugural SCAC Awards Luncheon in the fall when we recognized the J. Mitchell Graham and Barrett Lawrimore Memorial Awards participants and honorees.

It has truly been a privilege to serve with you during this period of growth at SCAC. We can all be proud of how far our Association and county government have evolved in the last five decades.

ADVOCATE FOR COUNTY GOVERNMENT

The Association has a rich history of working with county and state leaders to safeguard Home Rule, which this year celebrates its golden anniversary.

By partnering with county officials who work with local delegation members throughout the year, SCAC successfully amplifies the voices of county government at the state and federal levels.

Thanks to our Legislative Committee, Policy Steering Committee members and all county officials who offered input, recommendations and ideas for SCAC's 2025 Policy Positions. SCAC's legislative program success is due to the relentless efforts of the Governmental Affairs team and hundreds of county officials actively engaging throughout the policy development process, staying informed and making timely contact with General Assembly members.

2025 Legislative Session Wrap-Up

Highlights of the 2025* session include the following bills that address SCAC policy positions and issues of concern to county government.

State Budget — Act No. 69, R. 97, H. 4025

SCAC continues to work with legislative leaders to ensure full funding of the Local Government Fund (LGF) and Rural County Stabilization Fund. In FY 2025-26, the LGF will increase by over $14.5 million. This represents full funding to the LGF under the statutory formula.

Waste Tire Disposal — Act No. 33, R. 51, S. 171

This legislation represents the efforts of SCAC, the South Carolina Manufacturers Alliance, and several other entities to address the financial challenges that counties across the state face regarding the management and processing of waste tires. One of the most important aspects of the bill includes an increase of the $150-per-ton cap on tipping fees that a county may charge for recycling and disposal of undocumented waste tires to $400 per ton.

Law Enforcement/Judicial Privacy Protection — Act No. 4, R. 11, S. 126

Requires that any personal contact information of an active or former law enforcement officer or an active or former member of the judiciary accessible by a state or local government database or website be restricted and not be disclosed to the public if the eligible party has filed a formal request with the agency. The requester must specify which documents contain their personal information.

Litter Officers — Act No. 67, R. 95, H. 4247

Updates the number of litter control officers that a county may have based on the most recent census data.

Small Estates in Probate — Act No. 26, R. 44, H. 3472

Increases the limit of a small personal estate from $25,000 to $45,000 to allow more estates to go through summary administration in probate.

This is the first year of a two-year legislative session meaning bills that did not pass may be considered in 2026. Some bills of interest to counties that may be picked up in January 2026 include:*

Manufacturing Property Tax Reimbursements — S. 439

Increases the reimbursement cap for the 42.8571% manufacturing property tax exemption from $170 million to $300 million. This bill is in response to the Office of Revenue and Fiscal Affairs projecting that the current cap would be exceeded by more than $30 million in FY 2025-26. The reimbursements will continue to come from the Trust Fund for Tax Relief, and the increase in reimbursements will come from the General Fund.

Status: S. 439 has been referred to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Coroner Qualifications — H. 3048

Amends the qualification requirements for a candidate running for coroner. It removes the provision allowing a candidate to simply be enrolled in a recognized forensic science degree or certification program to be completed within one year of being elected to the office of coroner. There is currently no requirement to verify that, upon election, the coroner previously obtained a forensic degree or completed the certification program. The bill also requires the candidate to, at the time of filing, submit an affidavit along with supporting documents verifying that they meet the qualifications.

Status: H. 3048 has been referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Assault & Battery — S. 346

Amends the statute on assault and battery to state that unlawfully injuring a health care professional during their duties, or injuring someone in a health care facility, constitutes high-and-aggravated assault and battery, with specified penalties. The Senate Judiciary Committee adopted a subcommittee amendment to include correctional facility employees, including local detention center employees.

Status: S. 346 is pending second reading on the Senate calendar.

State Auditor — H. 3222

Authorizes the governor to appoint or remove the state auditor, with advice and consent of the Senate. It also creates the Department of Governmental Auditing, headed by the state auditor. Independent annual audits of all county financial records must be filed with the Department of Governmental Auditing instead of the State Treasurer’s Office.

It also establishes a Division of Local Government Services (Division) under the state auditor to be headed by a deputy auditor. The Division would perform periodic audits of financial records of county treasurers, clerks of court, and magistrates that were previously performed by the state auditor. Any request by a county for an extension to file their annual audit report must be made with the Division.

Status: H. 3222 is pending in the House to concur or nonconcur with Senate amendments.

2024 Property Tax Rates by County

The annual report, published digitally in December, details millage rates for every jurisdiction that levies property taxes in the state.

SCAC staff conducts statewide surveys and gathers information on counties' policies and practices to further inform policymakers and practitioners.

5 topical surveys were conducted on:

- boat tax revenue
- community centers
- firework ordinances
- paid parental leave policies
- South Carolina Transportation Infrastructure Bank

The biennial County Wage and Salary survey is currently underway.

Debut Program Brings Together Newly Elected Countywide Leaders

SCAC's inaugural Newly Elected Countywide Officials Orientation aimed to empower recently elected county officials as they step into their new roles.

The training was held in March for those who were recently elected to serve as county auditor, treasurer, clerk of court, coroner, probate judge, register of deeds or sheriff.

Similar to the Association's orientation program for newly elected county council members, the daylong event included introductions from SCAC leaders, an ethics overview from the State Ethics Commission and a crash course in county budgets.

SCAC Executive Director Tim Winslow explained how the Association can be of service to county officials, highlighting the organization's three pillars: advocacy, education and collaboration.

"Advocacy is why we started, but the education is equally important," he said.

The event also featured a panel of county officials including a sheriff, treasurer, coroner, county council members and an administrator from Anderson and Lancaster counties who addressed building effective working relationships in county government.

"We come together in the spirit of professionalism," Lancaster County Administrator Dennis Marstall told attendees about working closely with his colleagues in county government. "Our unifying thing, especially in Lancaster County, is growth."

CELEBRATE

Awards Spotlight

SCAC held its first Awards Luncheon in October to celebrate participants in the annual J. Mitchell Graham Memorial and Barrett Lawrimore Memorial Regional Cooperation Awards.

These awards recognize innovative projects completed by South Carolina's counties during the past two fiscal years. Winners represent the best qualities of local governance—attention to details, service to citizens, efficient use of tax dollars, and improvement in the quality of life.

- 8 counties competed in the J Mitchell Graham Memorial Award category.
- 7 counties representing five regional cooperation projects competed in the Barrett Lawrimore Memorial Regional Cooperation category.

COLLABORATE TO MAXIMIZE RESOURCES

South Carolina Counties Insurance Trusts

The SC Counties Property & Liability Trust and SC Counties Workers' Compensation Trust are run by members to meet the unique challenges facing county government operations. A Board of Trustees consisting of seven county officials oversees the trusts. It meets several times a year to review claim trends, financials and discuss mitigation strategies.

Strong risk management programs by participating counties plus SCAC's customized solutions and services make the programs a success.

46 Reasons to Celebrate South Carolina

The 2024 South Carolina State Fair shined a spotlight on what we consider the best part of the state—our counties! The theme “46 Reasons to Celebrate” included an exhibit hall highlighting what makes each county special in terms of history, economics and other contributions to the Palmetto State. SCAC and the State Fair partnered to bring the hall to life and share information about counties throughout the fall. County officials were invited to attend the fair for free following the 2024 Fall Advocacy Meeting on SCAC Day at the Fair.
